SOME "YOUNG IDEA" RETURNS.

Stray Document Found That Reflects Credit on its Boy Author

A reporter of the Morning Astorian came upon a lost document yesterday that gives a sharp indication of the trained conception of a ten-year old student at one of the public schools in Astoria, on the subject of "Physiology", that is worth publishing; and this liberty is taken with due apology to the little chap, and with commendation for his exposition, which is a lot better than most grown folks could have made in the same time he took to evolve it. It read as follows:

"1:—The effect of tobacco on the brain makes a boy so he can't think and makes him lazy and stupid.

"2:—We have two skins, the outer skin has little holes in it, and the inner skin is thicker than the outer skin.

"3:—The pigment is the little holes in the body. We have two kinds of skin glands, the sweat glands and the oil glands.

"4:—The use of skin is to keep your body in shape and to keep the blood from coming out.

"5:—The work of the kidneys is to send waste material out of the body.

"6:—Alcohol makes the skin tough and rough.

"7:—We should bathe to keep us healthy and to keep the pores open. Arteries are the little tubes that carry the blood to the heart.

"8:—The effect of alcohol to the heart is that it makes your heart beat faster and it makes the heart do more than its share.

"9:—We breathe to keep us alive, and we breathe because the bad blood comes into our heart, and when we breathe it comes pure again.

"10:—Muscles are the little tough strings that are bunched together."

This youngster is but ten years of age and it is hoped he had delivered this in school before he lost it, else he may have suffered some discredit, which it will be hoped, this publication may restore to him. The paper awaits him at this office.

However we may regard the rest of the family, we are all sorry for Harry Thaw's mother.

A successful year has just closed for the Palace Restaurant and a new year opens. This year will, no doubt, be as successful for this popular restaurant as the past if not more so. The manner of treating the guests pursued there cannot but tend to hold the trade and bring those who have never heard of the Palace.
